High School

Lancaster, Pennsylvania

Alma Mater

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
As we sing our grateful song,
Proud are we for thee and prouder
That to Lancaster we belong.
School days filled with joy and laughter
Soon will be a memory.
May they teach us to be braver
As we face our destiny.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Help us now to prove our worth,
As we strive to do thee honor,
Garden spot of all the earth.
Through the years our foes discerning,
Red and black—our flag we'll fly
O'er the best in sport and learning.
Hail to thee, McCaskey High.

ceedings of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives printed and sold by Franklin. Sandra inspects one of a three-volume set of books from Franklin's collection.

ECHO Traces The Year's Activities Thru Quotations

If this book were dedicated to a great American, Benjamin Franklin, the most famous exponent of the wisdom of the ages, as partly shown in his quotations, would surely have to be chosen.

Withdrawn from grammar school after attending for less than a year, Franklin (like Shakespeare), thru his own efforts, became one of the most learned men of his age. Having less of an educational advantage than the American child of today, Franklin achieved prominence in the fields of science, invention, printing, philosophy, philanthropy, and politics.

Altho Franklin experienced widespread fame for his versatility in these fields, the reason for his immortality lies in another area—writing. It is the witticism and common sense found in his quotations that preserve the memory of this "American Shakespeare." Along these lines, it is interesting to note that Franklin's own words, printed in his yearly book ("Poor Richard's Almanack") over 200 years ago, are applicable to this yearbook:

*If you would not be forgotten. . . .
Either write things worth reading
Or do things worth the writing.*

Included on the following pages are those things from the past school year worth being remembered, written about, and read—those things personifying famous quotations—the activities, sports, and persons that McCaskey High School students will remember.

Faculty

A teacher affects eternity.

—Henry Brooks Adams

The first link in a chain of McCaskey teachers that stretches into the future, Monroe W. Sloyer, has certainly affected eternity. Each teacher has taught the next, from Mr. Sloyer to Paul W. Frey, Richard D. Bear, E. Jerry Brooks, Patricia S. Knight, and Barbara Witmer, who plans a teaching career. Mr. Sloyer has taught all but Mr. Brooks.

McCaskey tradition provides that members of the school board and high-school administrators present diplomas to graduating seniors. Here Raymond H. Aierstock is assisted by Principal John H. Rodman, Assistant Principal Edward C. Kraft, and S. Ernest Kilgore, dean of boys, as he happily performs this task.

Left: English, music, home economics, algebra, trig, business subjects, history? Yes, McCaskey teaches them all, and so does Mrs. Dorothea Coulter, a truly versatile teacher, who is substituting in the English Department this year. Right: Mrs. Charlotte Ehrhart, replacing Miss Pauline Stauffer for a semester, examines a sketch before putting it on display in the art wing.

A game of "follow the leader thru the lunch line" is played by faculty member Mr. Paul W. Frey and students James Bower and Roman Lewis, who race on to complete a lunch in thirty minutes.

Food And Awards Interest Teachers And Students

Right: Mr. H. Grant Hurst, recipient of the Teacher-of-the-Year award, poses with Lynn Trainor, who is a candidate for the teaching profession. Lynn received the Girl-of-the-Month award presented by the Lancaster Business and Professional Women's Club to an outstanding senior member of the Future Teachers Club at McCaskey.

Left: Making a mute complaint about the "city water situation," Mrs. Mabel Anderson and Mrs. Mary Bledsoe refuse to take the blame for the "McCaskey coffee situation." The sign says, "This coffee is terrible. It tastes of chlorine. If you purchase it, don't complain. We can't help it!" Right: Mr. James J. Neely, who holds positions as McCaskey's Faculty Manager of Athletics and Chairman of the District #3 PIAA, keeps a watchful eye on his ever-ringing telephone while he waters plants in his office. This year Mr. Neely received the Headliner Award presented by the Lancaster Sportswriters Association for his contribution to sports.

Activities

The reward of a thing well done is to have done it.

Yearbook Borrows Quotations To Depict School Life

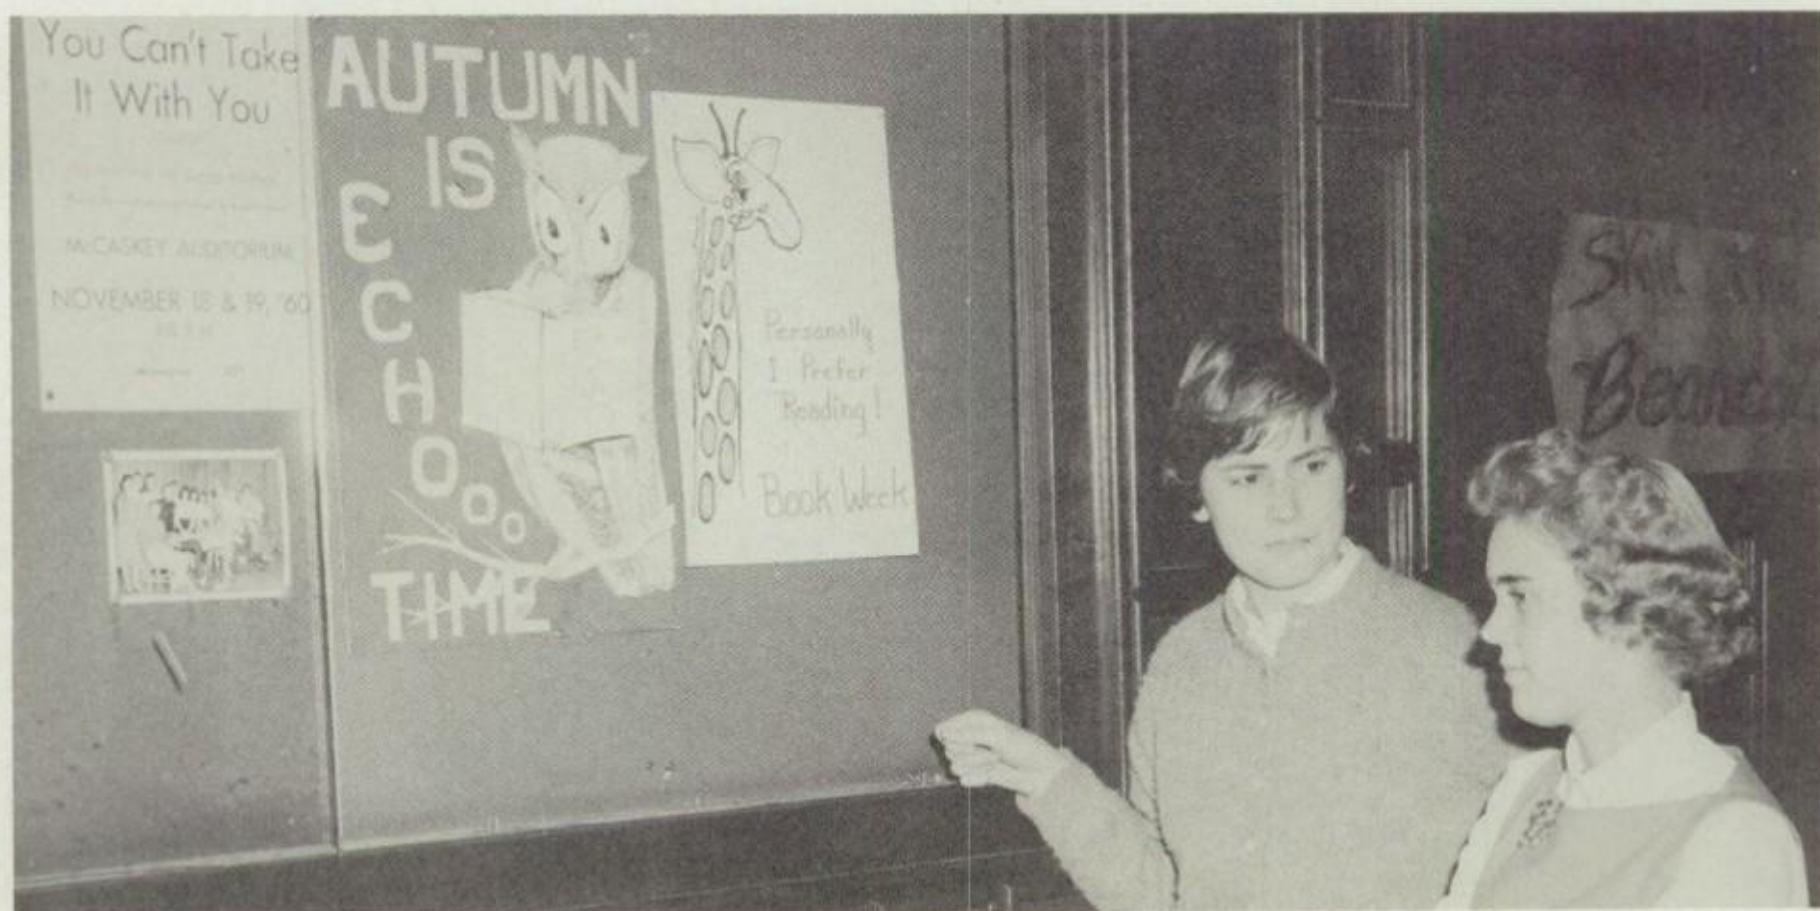

In April 1960, a tyronic staff of yearbook members, under the guidance of Miss Violet B. Weber, began the lengthy job of planning the 144 pages of the 1961 ECHO. After debates and eliminations, a theme based on quotations was chosen.

This year's book, printed in offset for the first time, will reach the hands of 1190 subscribers.

The position of the Book Week sign causes Susan Kraft, a member of both the play cast and the yearbook staff, and ECHO co-editor Sandra Frey to complain that reading definitely is not their preference. The three posters were inadvertently displayed in this order on a bulletin board.

For the second consecutive year Barbara Evans designed the modernistic cover. Finally all scheduling of pictures (and re-scheduling due to snowstorms), writing, editing, proofreading, ad infinitum, converged on an ever-advancing deadline; and the staff began to realize that indeed time waits for no man.

VIDETTE Keeps McCaskey "In The Know"

When the school doors swing open in September, the first person who approaches the students is an ambitious VIDETTE reporter seeking subscriptions to a newspaper awarded the Keystone Award for excellence in journalism. Thus begin the efforts of the staff to publish a newspaper which will keep the school "in the know."

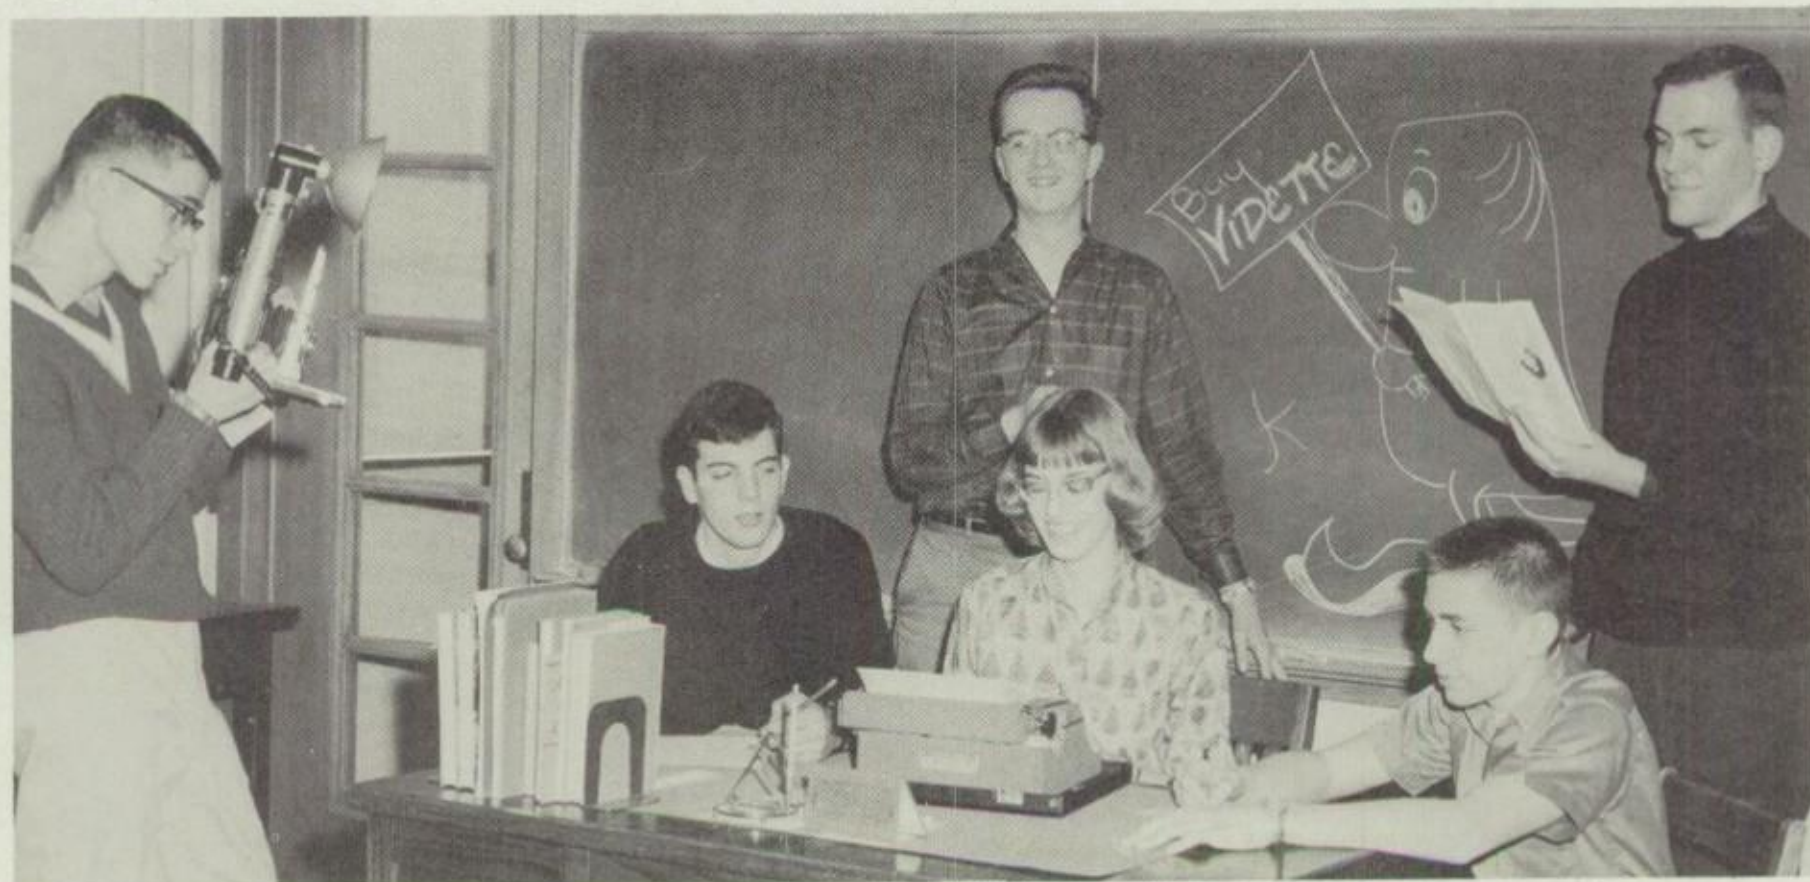

Preparing page layouts and assigning stories are the first steps in the process. Later the editors "burn the midnight oil" copyreading, rewriting, headlining, and subheading.

VIDETTE photographer William Sell catches John Kaufhold, Lynn Leibensperger, and Barry Nissly, columnists, organizing their material. John Krill, art editor, illus-

The day before publication, the editors proof-read each page a number of times. The paper arrives at McCaskey the next morning.

Then the circulation staff takes over. As representatives report to room 206, the circulation manager keeps track of the number of papers for each homeroom, while his staff prepares the papers for the mailing list. Mr. Robert W. Broome, head of the English department, supervises all procedures of the entire VIDETTE staff.

Knights Of The Pen Gain Quill And Scroll Membership

High-school journalists who have made outstanding contributions to either the ECHO or the VIDETTE are honored by membership in Quill and Scroll. Members of this international honorary society include 38 seniors and 18 juniors this year.

VIDETTE members must contribute 100 inches of printed copy or its equivalent in other newspaper activities. ECHO members achieve recognition thru art work, copywriting, proof-reading, typing, or record keeping. Initial requirements include classification as a junior or senior and scholastic standing in the upper third of the class.

Qualified Seniors Serve On National Honor Society

On the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and service, twenty-nine seniors have been chosen as members of the National Honor Society, whose purpose is to promote high ideals of citizenship and to place more emphasis upon learning. The faculty selects five per cent of the juniors and fifteen per cent of the seniors each spring.

Advised by Mr. Harry E. Langford, members perform the duties of ushering at the commencement and baccalaureate services, community concerts, and Parents' Night. Members also tutor students in need of extra help and assist with the sophomore orientation program in September.

McCaskey Glee Clubs Offer Three Presentations

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy E. Schock, the glee clubs, accompanied by Helene Bolbach, Lois Quickel, Gretchen Rummel, and Paul Sheren, presented two concerts and a musical. In December the groups presented "Songs of Christmas," while in March they offered McCaskey's first mid-winter concert—the Lenten portion of Handel's "Messiah." Several members of the faculty—E. Jerry Brooks, Robert W.

Broome, Mrs. Dorothea C. Coulter, Richard L. Fraser, Miss Phyllis Goodman, Harry E. Langford, and John H. Rodman—participated in the latter concert.

In May the clubs produced "The King and I" with William Hopkins and Brenda Broome singing the leads, Peggy Foote and Amanda Smith serving as choreographers. Scenery was made by Foster Augustine's classes and stage crafters.

"All This For A Song!" Exclaim The Choristers

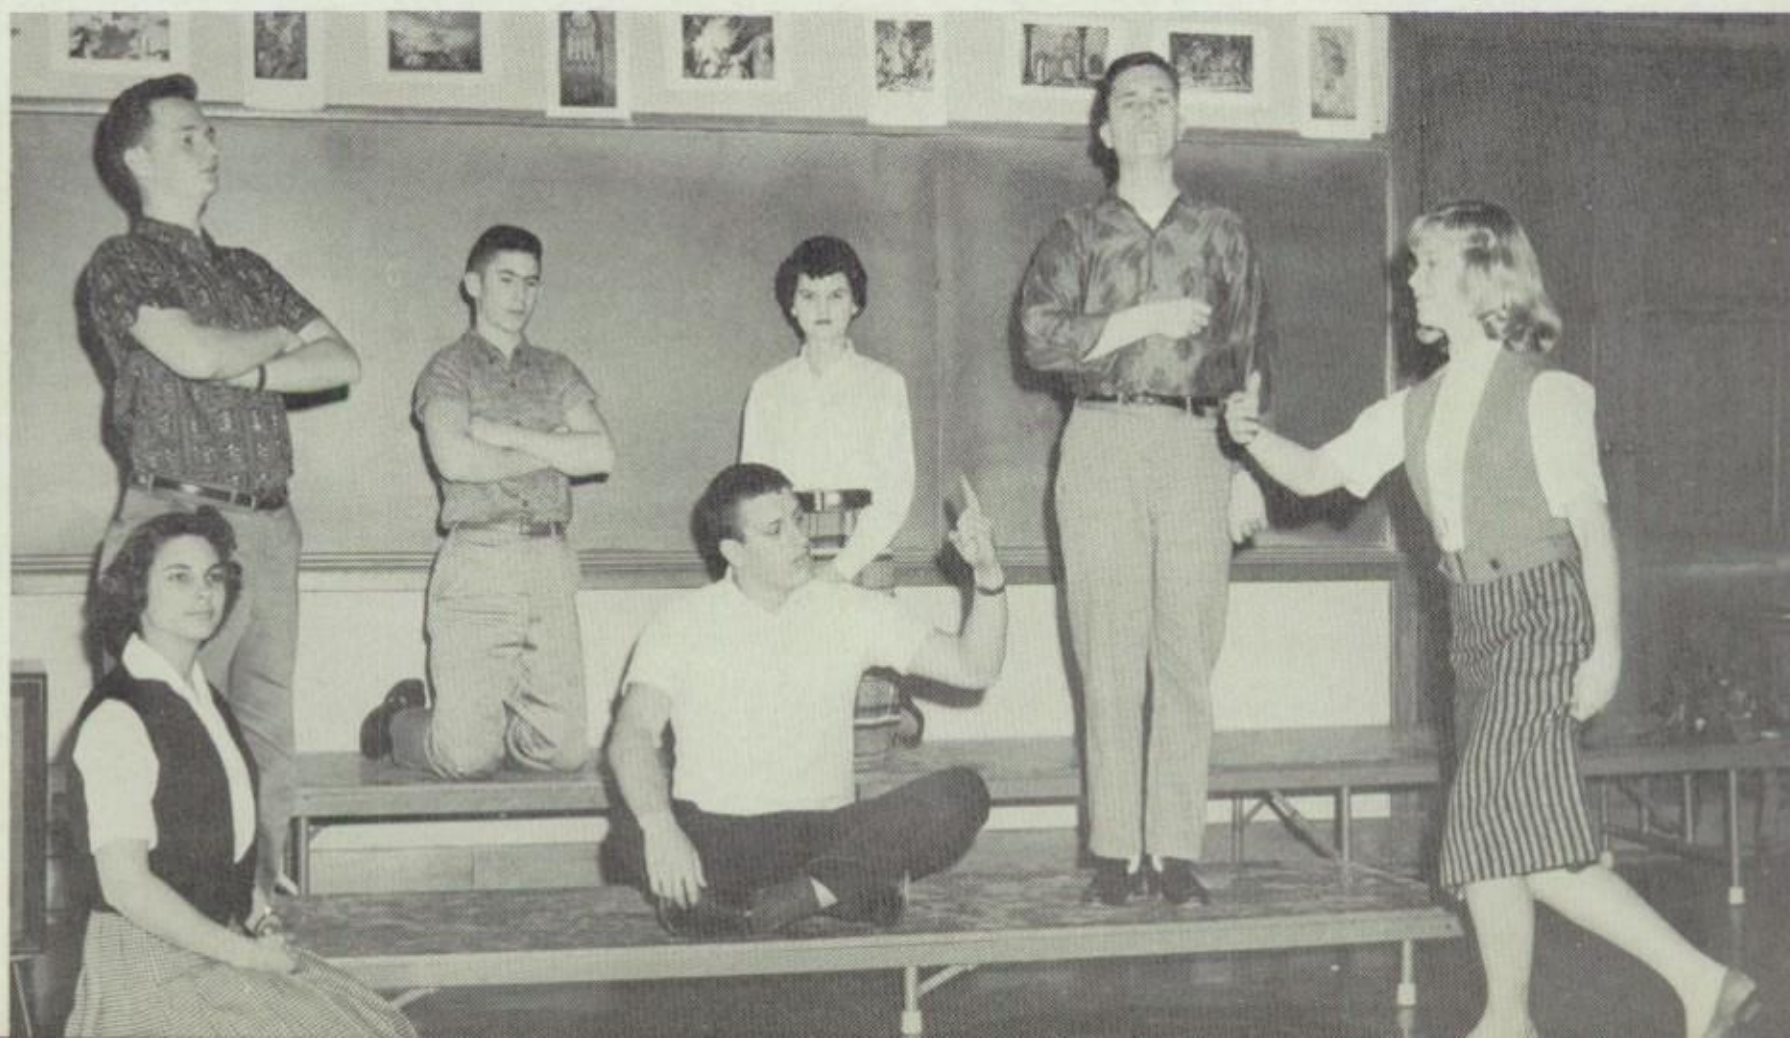

The Choristers, directed by Miss Dorothy E. Schock, meet during club period each week. This year's group, consisting of forty boys and girls chosen from the senior glee club, gave programs for various organizations, made a tape recording heard on radio at Christmastime, and sang at baccalaureate service in June.

Right: The cocky King of Siam, William Hopkins, issues the command that male elephants be sent to the United States to roam the unsettled West. To this the practical Anna, Brenda Broome, replies, "Your Majesty, just male elephants?"

Singing the leads in "The King and I" are Patricia Gardner as Lady Thiang, John Krill as the Kralahome, Robert McComsey as Prince Chululongkorn, William Hopkins as the King of Siam, Judith Mann as Tuptim, Dennis Geiter as Sir Edward Ramsay, and Brenda Broome as Anna Leonowens.

Orchestra Entertains In The Only Universal Tongue

Composed of 45 musicians, the McCaskey Orchestra participated in several school programs during the year. "Christmas Festival" by Leroy Anderson was the number played in the holiday assembly. In the annual spring concert the orchestra played six selections, featuring "Der Freischutz" by Von Weber, "Flower Drum Song" by Richard Rodgers, and "Concerto III in G Minor" by Handel with Julia Theobald as the oboe soloist.

The McCaskey "Pit" Orchestra, composed of

25 members, accompanied the glee clubs in the spring production of "The King and I." The musicians chosen for the District Orchestra in January were Raymond Coulter and Barbara Lewis, violin; Evelyn Daehling, viola; Claudia Foulke and John Slaugh, bass violin; and Jean Gilbo, cello.

Representatives at the Region III State Orchestra Festival were Raymond Coulter, Evelyn Daehling, Jean Gilbo, and Claudia Foulke.

Dressed in bright new uniforms, the Red and Black Marching Band rehearses the intricate "Sugar Bowl" routime at a practice session in preparation for the Milton Hershey football game.

Marching Band—New Uniforms Plus Clever Routines

Under the direction of Mr. Donald L. Trostle, assisted by Mr. Eugene J. Polaski, the marching band demonstrated intricate drills at halftime of the football games. The last home game was celebrated by the gala appearance of the group in new uniforms consisting of black pants with white stripes down the sides, short black jackets trimmed with silver buttons, scarlet citation cords and ties, and white military hats with glossy black visors.

During football season, the majorettes performed a dance routine to "Lullaby of Birdland," a twirling routine to "Fine and Dandy," and various marching routines.

Day And Night—There's Band Music In The Air

After weeks of hard work, the concert band combined efforts with the orchestra to present the annual concert in March. A date prior to the event was set aside for recording so that the music could be enjoyed on records in the future. A shorter concert was given as an assembly program at another school.

Membership in the dance band is gained thru tryouts at the beginning of each year and participation in both the marching and concert bands. The group meets during club period and Friday after school. Throughout the year the band gives assembly programs for the junior high schools, plays for a ninth-grade class party, an assembly program and a school dance.

One of the highlights this year was the music department party, complete with floor show, held in February.

On November 18 and 19, 1960, "You Can't Take It With You," a delightful comedy, was presented under the direction of Miss Naomi B. Terry.

The story portrays the Sycamores, who are strictly individualists. Alice, the lovely daughter, escapes the "insanity" of her family and falls in love with a young businessman, Tony Kirby. Desiring his family to meet hers, Alice invites the refined Kirbys to dinner.

The Kirbys come a night too soon, and the fun begins when the two families come in conflict with each other. Later, however, Tony tells his family that he purposely brought them on the wrong night to show them a family that really loves one another. The Kirbys soon realize this, and all ends well.

Starting top right and proceeding left and down: 1. Ed plays a sonata on his marimba, while Essie rehearses her ballet. Mr. De Pinna poses for Penny as she paints. 2. While the Sycamores listen, Mr. Henderson, a visitor from the Federal government, yells about Grandpa's misunderstanding of the income tax. 3. Martin Vanderhof, head of the Sycamore house, calmly looks at his two visitors. 4. Mr. Kolenkhov practices a bit of wrestling on Mr. Kirby. Mrs. Kirby, Alice, and Tony are horrified. 5. Alice tries to explain her family's behavior, but Tony tells her it isn't as bad as it seems.

On April 14 and 15 playgoers were thrilled by one of McCaskey's cleverest comedies, "Bachelor Born." The play, presented in the school auditorium, was under the direction of Miss Naomi B. Terry, dramatics supervisor.

The story is about three young and lively girls, Rosemary, Chris, and Button, who, along with their Aunt Barbara, go from France to England to live with Charles Donkin, master of Red House, a part of Marbledown School for boys. Eventually the girls bring mass confusion to teachers as well as to students. The play ends on a happy note as the girls return to their father in France.

In charge of lighting and curtain operation was the stage crew, headed by David Foster.

Left: Charles Donkin is presented a gift by the "B. U. D. C.," the Back-Up-Donkin Club. The group wants to prevent him from being subdued by the headmaster. Right: Mr. Ovington, the headmaster, threatens to call off the regatta, an activity enjoyed by the boys. Charles, and the two professors, Frank Hastings and Victor Beamish, try unsuccessfully to dissuade him.

Act Well Your Part; There All The Honor Lies

The National Thespian Society, organized at McCaskey twelve years ago, is devoted to drama in the secondary schools.

One Thespian point is earned for ten hours of work in school dramatic events. Ten points are necessary to become a Thespian, and a star is rewarded for work beyond admittance requirements.

At the annual Thespian banquet, an honorary Thespian, usually a member of the faculty, is admitted to the society along with the new student members. Every third year a public induction is held in the school auditorium.

As part of their duties in the production of the fall play, four student directors assist the three G-men with their maneuvers in "You Can't Take It With You." Yvonne Summar aids Edward Ressler; Lois Hendrickson helps Jeffrey McCune accent the right word, while Sandra Neff and Sandra Nagy assist Philip Becker.

Writers and actors of dramatics class plays are (seated) Brenda Broome, Linda Ellenberger, and Michael Marcuse. Standing: Bertha Musselman, Charlotte Hurst, Sandra Neff, Richard Dicely. Linda wrote "One Fight Too Many," a domestic comedy; "Now, Herman," written by Michael Marcuse, contrasts families of German and American backgrounds; "Oh, Doctor!" about two hospital patients, was written by Sandra Neff.

Varied English Activities Provide Outlet For Talent

Susan Ross, county winner of the American Legion Essay Contest, listens to Louis Butcher, McCaskey winner of the Legion Oratorical Contest, declaim his beliefs on America's heritage under the Constitution.

The Work Is Over; Now On With The Dance!

The All-School Social Committee, consisting of 55 members, sponsored seven dances this year—"Kandidate Karnival," "Fall Frolic," "Turkey Bowl," "Joyeux Noel," "Hi-Jinx Hop," "Valentine," and "Swinging into Spring." Every dance drew a large crowd, including many alumni.

Committee members perform their duties under the leadership of the following subchairmen:

Stanley Watt, admissions; Sarah Winter, guests; Nicholas Ponerros and William Hopkins, music; Susan Hertz, refreshments; Betsy Lorenz, publicity; Jean Gilbo, decorations; Melinda Martin, checkroom; James Brendle, property. Mrs. Mary B. Myers and S. Ernest Kilgore serve as advisers to the Committee, headed this year by Richard Wolf and Barbara Brubaker.

Student Council Directs Various School Activities

Under the supervision of Edward C. Kraft, assistant principal, the Student Council takes charge of various school activities. Comprised of one delegate from each homeroom and one from other school organizations, the Council is divided into six committees: program, concession, cafeteria, welfare, safety, and handbook. These groups sponsor two faculty teas, operate the candy stand at home basketball games, revise the handbook, develop cafeteria and safety codes, and plan assemblies. Bi-annually the Council chooses party chairmen for Youth Day in Government.

Youth Day Affords "Hopportunity" To Students

"Hoppy Days Are Here Again" and "Pull The Lever For Lefever" were two of the many slogans used in the biennial Youth Day in Government campaign.

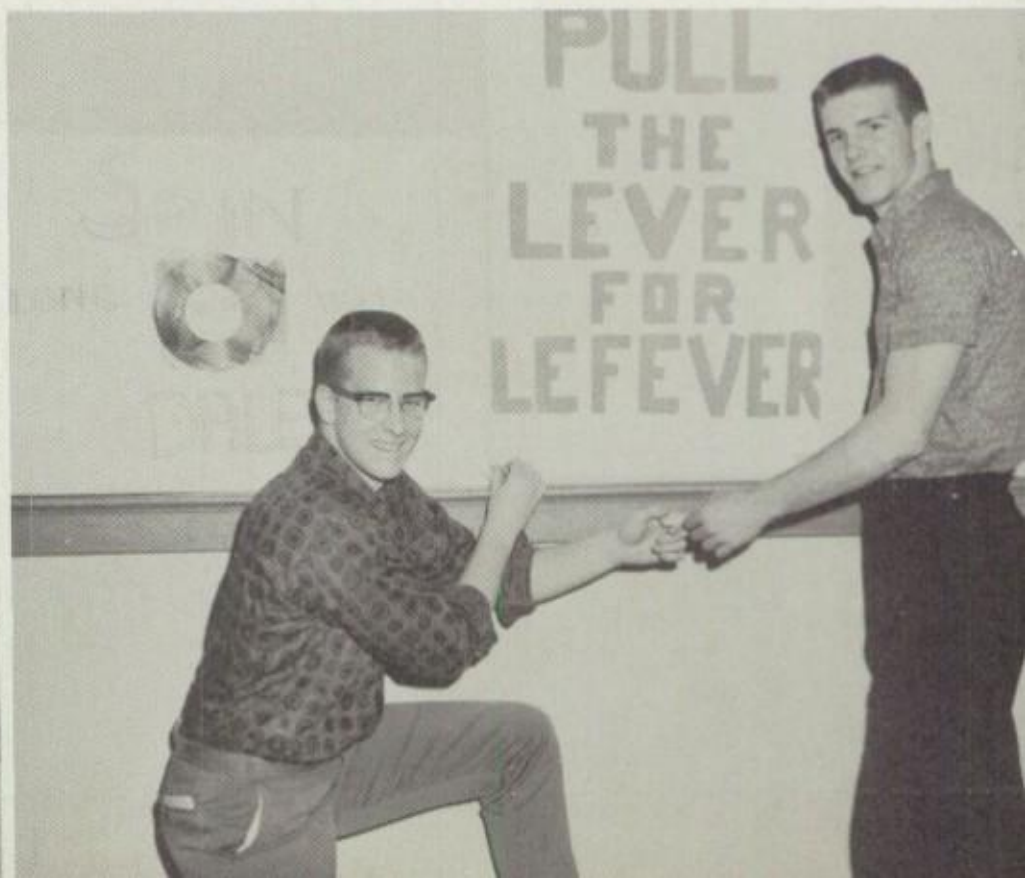

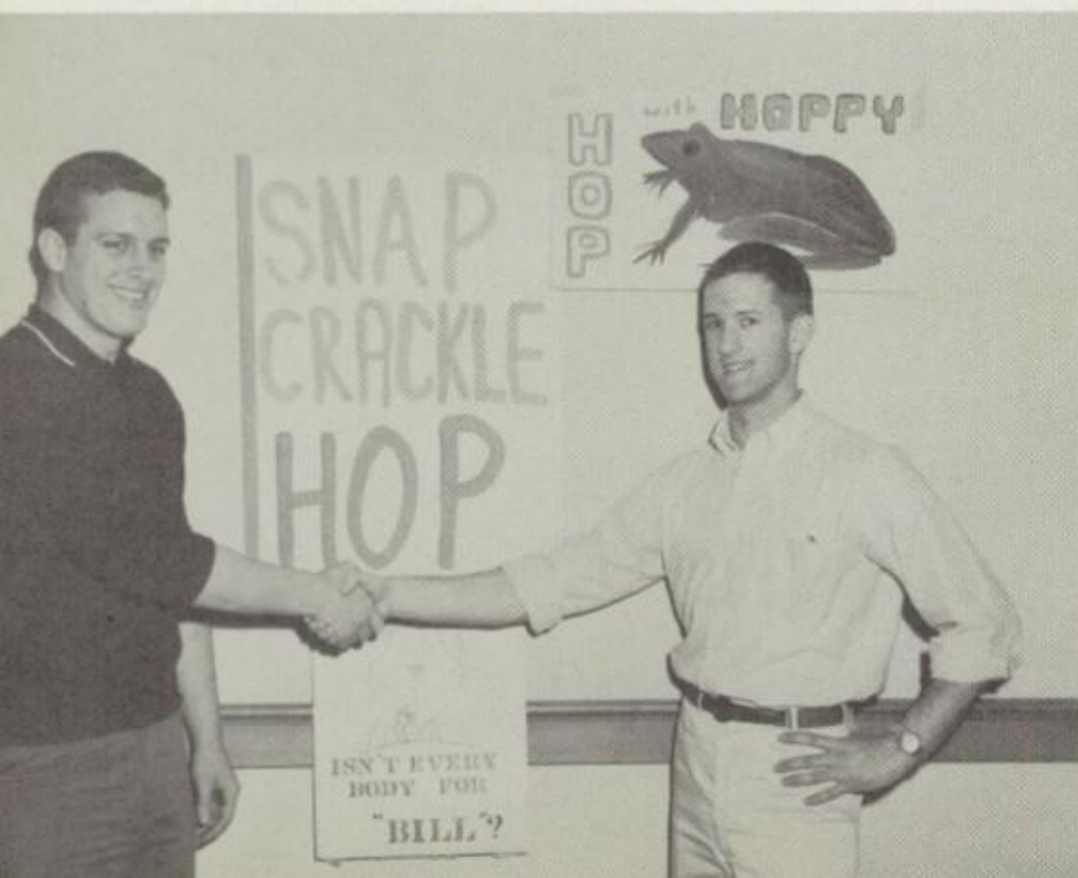

The Hopportunity party, which supported William Hopkins for mayor, competed against the Hi-Fi-Dale-ity party supporting Dale Lefever. Both platforms opposed the extension of Broad Street thru the school campus.

On March 23 the campaigning came to its climax with an assembly program introducing all the candidates and their platforms. Students, wearing party identification tags, voted the following day. At 3:30 it was announced that the Hopportunity party had carried every office. On March 28 the elected and the appointed officials went to City Hall where they "took office" and observed the working of city government.

Student Library Staff Contributes Time And Effort

Under the direction of Miss Dorothea E. Wolfe and Miss Marilyn J. Wright, the student library staff members give their time before and after school and during study periods to help in keeping the library running smoothly. The aides perform many necessary duties such as charging books and reference materials, shelving, filing, and arranging books. They also make and arrange displays which publicize the library's facilities. Two student secretaries from the commercial department do clerical work.

The McCaskey Student Library Staff is a member of the Student Library Association of Pennsylvania. One of McCaskey's staff members, Catharine Kammerer, is serving as vice-president of the organization this season.

An all-time high for circulation of library materials was obtained this school year. Compared with fiction, almost twice as many non-fiction items have been distributed.

Right: Carried away with enthusiasm for Book Week, Catharine Kammerer and Frank Romanoski gladly contribute their text books to the lobby display which is crowned with a jubilant clown made by Robert Gable.

Distributive And Business Courses—Career Training

Distributive Education enables students to secure store experience under supervision while attending school. Members participate in social activities, deal with many people, and acquire ability in judging quality of merchandise. Trained to be retail salesmen, they operate the school store and arrange displays in the salesroom and main lobby. This year the group sponsored a tea and an assembly program at which Mr. Jim Low was speaker.

The group was represented at state and national meetings. For the first time all members joined the "Distributive Education Clubs of America."

Tornado Gridders Take Second Straight Title

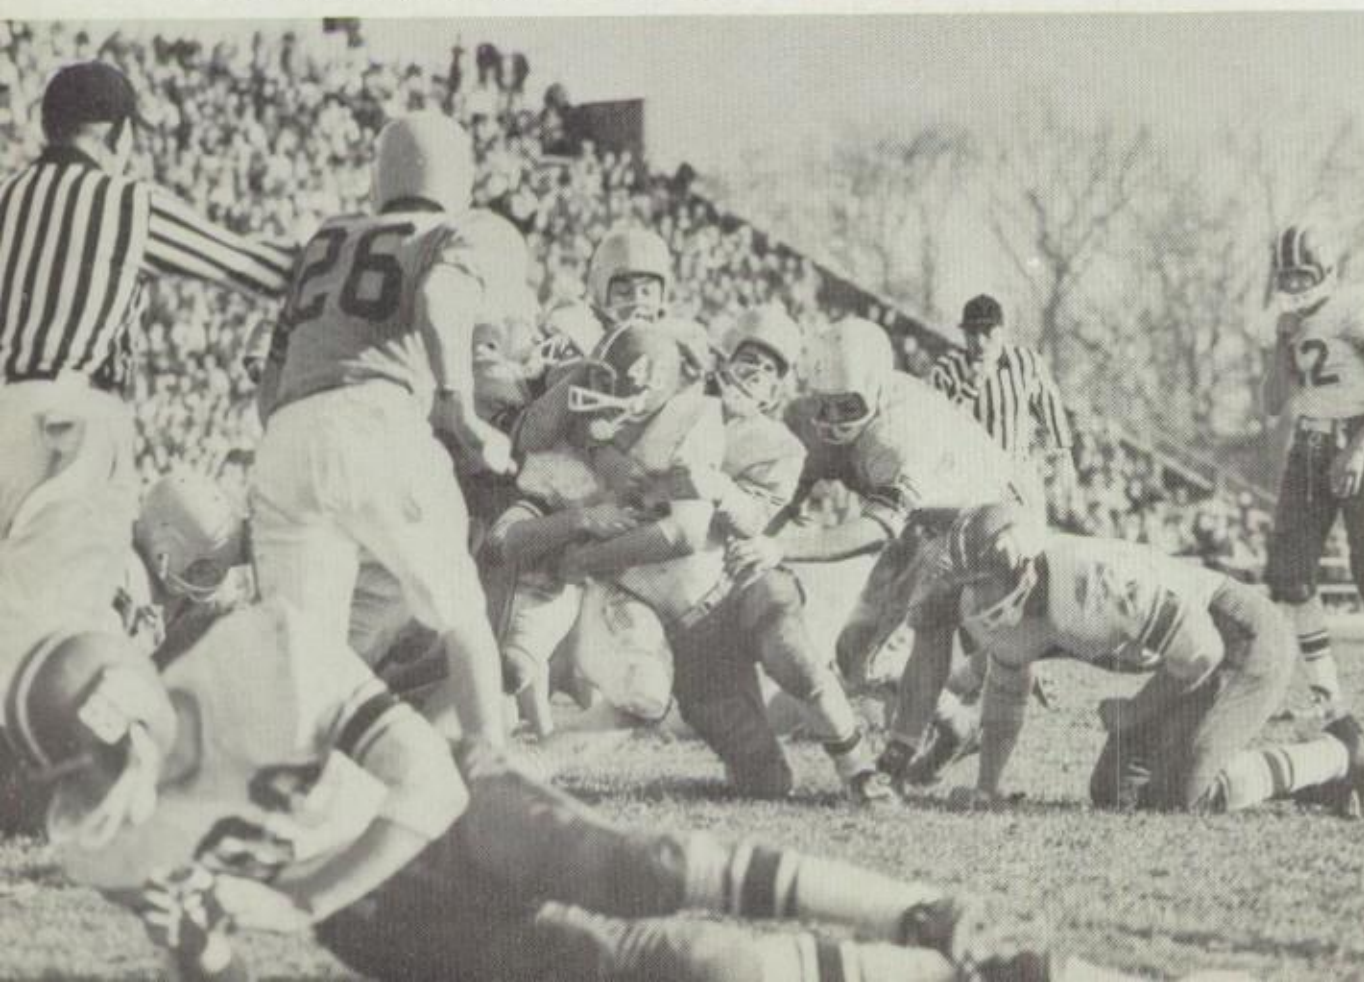

This year McCaskey captured its second straight Central Penn Conference title—the first team in the league's 14-year history to do so. The Tornado has won four titles outright—more than any other team in the Conference. Coach Boyd E. Sponaugle is the first coach to win four championships outright: in 1952, '57, '59, and '60.

Highlighting the season was the 7-0 win over John Harris. A tough-fought game with both teams threatening to score thru the first half was climaxed by Sandy Hill's scoring the lone touchdown on a nine-yard smash play for pay dirt which ended in a 44-yard drive. Another spectacular game was the 27-14 win over York in the traditional War of the Roses. Milton Hershey, a non-league opponent, broke McCaskey's 19-game winning streak by a 12-7 score; this was the second time in four years Milton Hershey has dashed McCaskey's unbeaten dreams.

Tackle Frank Metzger and halfback Ken Stoudt were named to the Central Penn All-Star team. Selected to the second team were Ron Rill, Charles McFalls, Jim Brendle, and Bill Hopkins. Stoudt and Metzger won places on the All-State Big 33. Both played on McCaskey teams that won 27 and lost 1 in three years.

Sandy Hill grinds out much-needed yardage against Milton Hershey as Ron Johnson and Frank Metzger attempt to give support by clearing the path. Marty Sponaugle closely observes from the rear.

Moments Of Greatness

A team that had everything—good size in the line, fast backs, and twelve lettermen returning from last year's unbeaten team—was out to prove it could do it again.

Enlarged Cheerleader Squad Sports New Uniforms

Fifteen varsity cheerleaders, six more than in previous years, cheered Tornado teams on to victory. In new uniforms the girls not only performed the usual gymnastics at games but also whipped up school spirit and athletic enthusiasm by decorating the lobby and halls with bright posters. Setting words to the music of "Across the Field," the girls came up with "Lancaster Tornadoes," a snappy fight song that caught on quickly.

In a fall pep assembly the senior members of the football team joined the cheerleaders in presenting a mock football game. While the girls ran thru some very original plays, the team imitated a group of highschool cheerleaders.

Serving as adviser is Mr. Harold S. Butz, faculty member; Lanky McLanc, a stuffed French poodle, is mascot.

Tornado Hill-And-Dalers Finish Third In State

The cross-country team completed the most successful season in its history by winning twelve meets and losing only to John Harris. McCaskey avenged the loss by trouncing Harris 19-37 at home.

The team was paced by John Horn and Red Wilson, juniors, and Doug Thomas, a senior. During the season Horn won nine meets; Wilson won two. In the All-League meet Horn captured first, and Thomas, second. The harriers then won the District #3 championship for the first time, and John Horn set a new district record. At the State championships Horn and Thomas led the team to third place, the highest position ever won by a McCaskey cross-country team. Horn finished eleventh; Thomas came in thirteenth in a field of 164 runners.

The McCaskey soccer team completed its third consecutive winning season with a 7-1-2 record. After winning five straight, the team lost to the District 3 titleholder, Pequea Valley. The booters then tied West Chester and Dover before they swamped Reading and Kennett Square, both by 5-0 scores. Paul Martin, with 13 goals, was high scorer. Martin, Craig Reynolds, and Donald Rineer were named to the first team City-County All-Stars.

The junior varsity, coached by G. Richard Bechtel, finished with a record of 7-2-1.

Cagers Complete Best Season In Fourteen Years

The McCaskey varsity basketball team completed its most successful season in 14 years by compiling a record of 16 wins and 5 losses. In pre-league competition, the team posted five wins against no losses. They ended the first half of Central Penn play with five and three, a record which tied them for third place.

In the second half of league play, they lost their first game to John Harris in overtime before upsetting the York Bearcats for the second straight year. The only team to beat York in the second half, the Tornado continued its winning ways by defeating its next five opponents. In the last game of the season, the hoopsters lost a heartbreaker to the Black Knights of Reading by 41-39 in the best game McCaskey played all year. Their overall league record of eleven wins and five losses enabled the cagers to take undisputed control of third place behind Reading and York.

Victory Over York Highlights Jayvee Campaign

McCaskey's jayvee basketball team, coached for the first time by P. Robert Herr, completed the season with a record of 8 wins and 13 losses. The season's highlight was a three-point victory over York, a team which had boasted a 38-game winning streak over two and a half years. Altho McCaskey led by as many as eleven points, the victory was not secure until the final buzzer. Another of the season's high spots was a victory over Lebanon. After the Tornado had built up a lead in the first three quarters, the Cedars rallied to tie the score. The lead see-sawed back and forth in front of a tense crowd of spectators until the final basket which gave the game to McCaskey by two points.

Leading the dribblers in scoring was Ted Robinson, who made 312 of the team's 930 points, or an average of 14.8 per game. Trailing him were Chet Stewart who averaged 8.9 and Harry Garman with an average of 8.4. The all-sophomore team averaged 44.3 points per game.

Swimmers Splash To Victorious Close

G. Richard Bechtel, in his first year as head swimming coach, led the Tornado mermen to a record of 10 wins and two losses. Richard Gilbert paced the team by winning 12 straight dual meets, District, Regional, and State championships, and the Eastern Interscholastic Championship—the best account in PIAA history. He broke every existing record and was the first diver ever to win all three honors three years in a row. School records were also broken by Ron Good, who swam the 50-yard freestyle in 23.7 and by the 200-yard freestyle relay team composed of Good, Jock West, Rick Ehle, and Stan Watt, that turned in a record-breaking performance of 1:36.9. In District 3 McCaskey finished second as the freestyle relay gained a first. The tanksters finished second in Regionals and fourth at State.

The Tornado grapplers continued to show improvement over the records of the last two years by posting a slate of eight wins against four losses overall, with a 6-4 league record. The team started off strong by winning their first three matches before losing to Columbia by two points. After losing to Manheim Central, the grunt-and-groaners won four straight but ended the regular season on a losing note by dropping their last two matches.

In the District Sectionals, Paul Martin emerged victorious. Undefeated during the regular season, he won in the 133-pound division with a 10-2 decision in the District 3 championships before being defeated in the Regionals by a 6-4 decision on a reversal in the last four seconds.

The jayvees showed fine prospects for next year by winning all but one of their meets.

McCaskey Trackmen Well On Way To District Title

The Tornado cindermen have high hopes of extending the streak of 34 straight wins over the last four years. Among the fifteen returnees are three District 3 champs—co-captain Ken Stoudt, Ken Shank, and Jock West. Also returning are co-captain, pole vaulter Ron Rill; distance runners Doug Thomas, John Horn, and Red Wilson; and shot putters Tim Clark, Jim Bower, and Frank Metzger. Last year Jim Bower, Jerry Ford, John Horn, Ken Stoudt, and Jock West qualified for State meet.

April 14 the team won its first meet by defeating Cedar Cliff 105½ to 21½ as John Horn and Tom Bostic scored double victories. McCaskey won 13 of the 15 events and set field records in seven. April 18 Central Dauphin was defeated 109-18 as the Tornado won all but one event.

The team achieved its 37th straight triumph when Steelton was beaten 100-27 with McCaskey winning 14 of the 15 events. John Horn was a double winner in the mile and the half-mile.

Due to rain at the York meet, only one event—the 120-yard high hurdles—was completed. Mike Bomberger finished first, and Dick Diehm, second. A third-place tie between Robinson and a York man resulted in a final score of 8½ to ½ with the York coach deciding that McCaskey should be declared winner of the dual meet.

April 28 and 29 McCaskey sent its largest group ever to the Penn Relays—four relay teams and three individual performers, Ken Shank in the high jump, Ron Rill in the pole vault, and Jim Bower in the shot.

Left: Lewis Burross sprints around the final turn of the 440-yard run. Center: Sandy Hill, who has thrown over 155 feet, is the number-one man in the javelin throw.

Baseball Hopes Founded On Lettermen

Under coach P. Robert Herr, who succeeds last year's pilot, Walter Kreider, the McCaskey baseball team is preparing to defend its Central Penn title. The season began with five returning lettermen—Ron Good, Jack Kaufhold, Bob Mowery, Hal Phillips, and Jim Rosenthal.

March 30 the Tornado traveled to Coatesville and trounced the host team 6-2. At home April 4 the Red and Black batsmen brought ten runs over the plate to Garden Spot's three. Two days later the team won their league opener with Hershey 6-0. April 17 John Harris was defeated 5-4, and the following day Lebanon bowed 8-4.

McCaskey Golfers Face Rough Campaign

With only two returning lettermen, the 1961 Tornado golf team will attempt to duplicate its 1960 record of 9 wins, 2 losses, and one tie. The team will be captained by Bruce Frace, and Dave McLain, who averaged 79 and 80.5 strokes respectively. Filling out the rest of the squad are seniors Bill Despard and Stan Watt, juniors Bob Lilley and John Hoffman, and sophomores John Grezlak and John Kurtz.

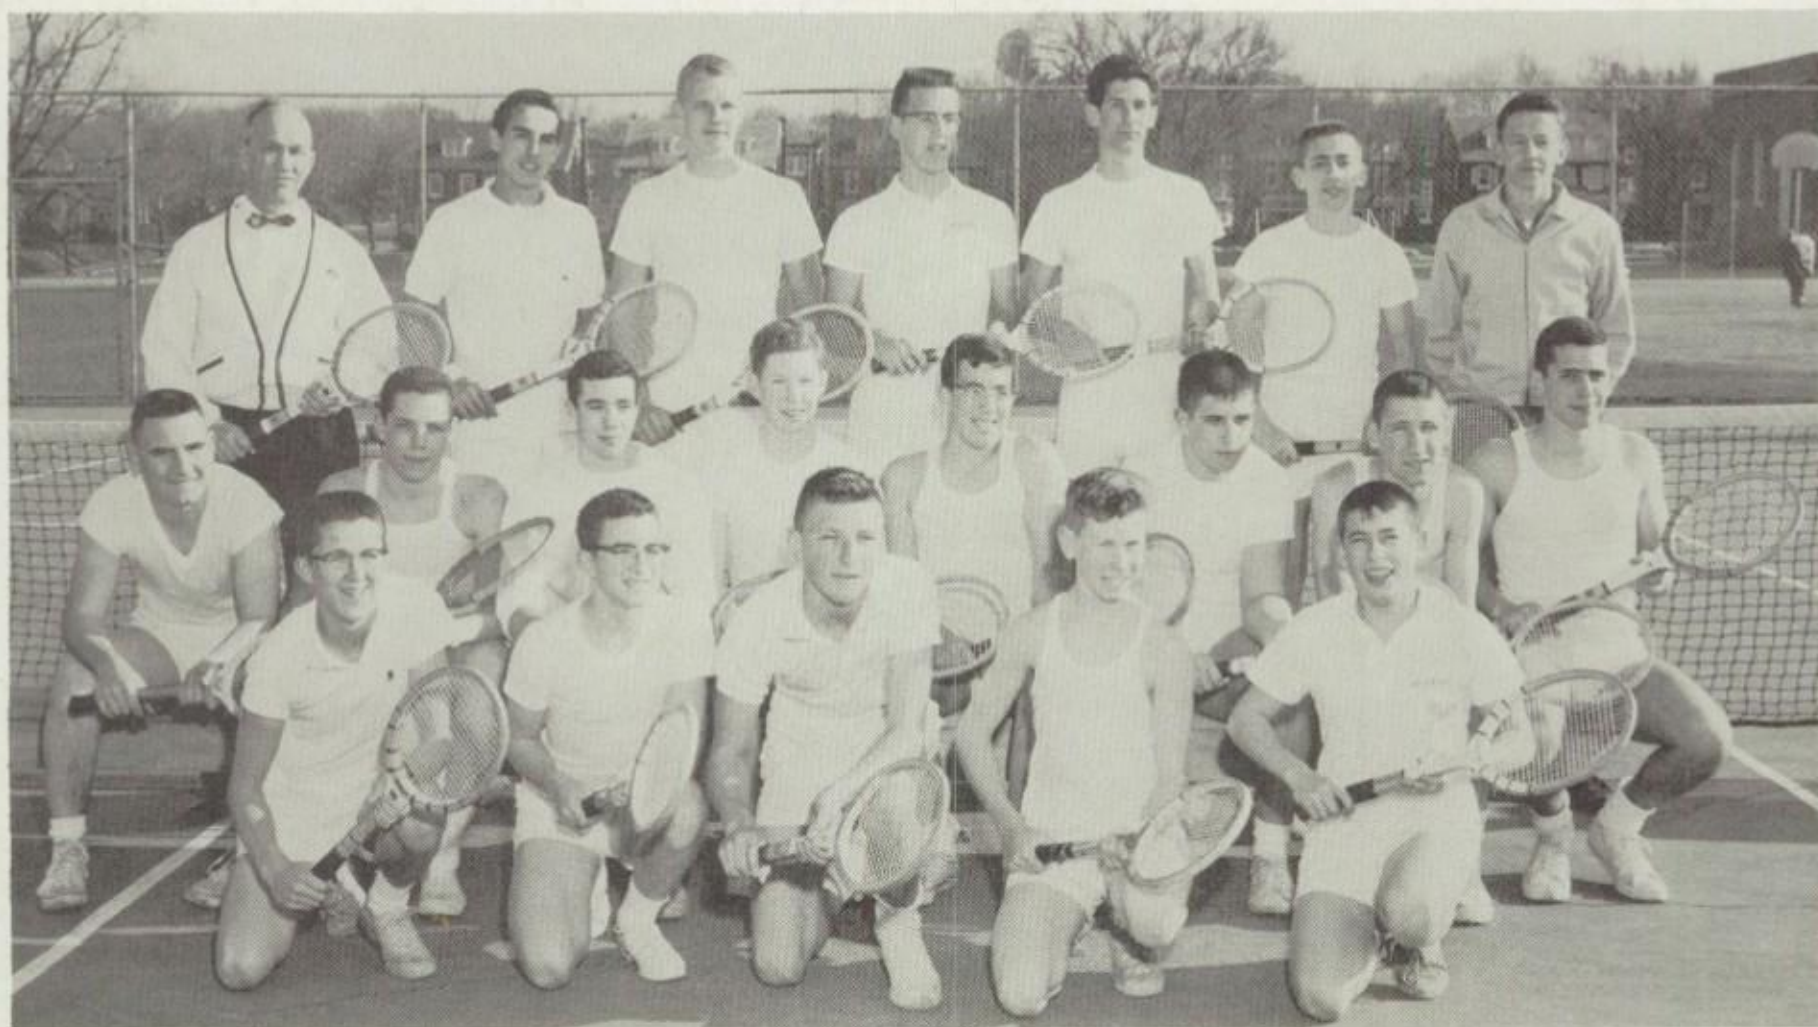

The season opened March 27 when the golfers traveled to Coatesville. Unfortunately, they returned on the short end of a $14\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ score. One week later they were defeated 15-5 on the Hershey course in their league opener. They evened their league record on April 7 by beating Cocalico $19\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$. April 17 and 18 Lebanon and Manheim Township felt the sting of defeat by scores of $16\frac{1}{2}$ to $3\frac{1}{2}$ and $14\frac{1}{2}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ respectively.

Tennis Team Aims For 95 Straight

The McCaskey tennis team, coached for the first time by Earl L. Koth, will attempt to extend its winning streak to 95 straight matches. Led by co-state doubles and District 3 indoor singles champion John Plakans and by returning varsity lettermen Ray Coulter and Doug Hogarth, the team has a good chance of maintaining its ninth undefeated season and of winning the district title. Filling out the rest of the varsity are jayvee lettermen Laszlo Birinyi, John Campbell, and John May.

The team meets Wilson and Radnor, the last team to defeat McCaskey in May, 1952, in non-league matches before Central Penn play against Hanover. April 14 the Tornado won its 87th straight by defeating Wilson High 7-0. The match with Radnor was rained out.

The junior varsity, composed entirely of underclassmen, competes in the Lancaster County League and won its opening match with Penn Manor.

Leaders Assist In Teaching Athletic Skills

Members of the Leaders Club not only assist in gym classes but also organize, manage, and officiate all intramural sports tournaments. During tryouts in September, each girl is assigned a skill to explain, demonstrate, and teach. This year 74 members were chosen for qualities of leadership, athletic ability, and knowledge of sports. For its annual sports project, the club conducted an assembly featuring rhythmic skills and modern dance.

Dolphins Agree That The First Of Things Is Water

Tryouts for the Dolphin Club are held each fall in a teacher-pupil situation. To qualify, girls are required to have a lifesaving certificate and to attend several practice sessions to correct or improve their swimming strokes.

During the school year, the Dolphins attain first-class teaching experience by assisting Miss D. Marian Fitzgerald, girls' swimming instructor. In addition, the club presents an annual water show.

Acrobatic Girls Perform High And Low Gymnastics

Girls interested in improving old acrobatic skills and acquiring new ones formed a tumbling and apparatus team, supervised by Miss Phyllis R. Sherrard, physical education teacher. During practice sessions Wednesday after school, the girls became proficient in feats on the horse, buck, elephant, springboard, rings, parallel bars, and ropes, as well as in tumbling. The team represented McCaskey at a physical education teachers' meeting held at a county school. In an assembly program in April, the girls demonstrated their abilities.

Robert McClure, Harry Garner, and Robert Mowery spend their time wisely by varnishing splints for the Red Cross. This activity is one of the many beneficial projects performed by the vocational shops in collaboration with the Service Club of McCaskey.

But Education Ends Only With Life

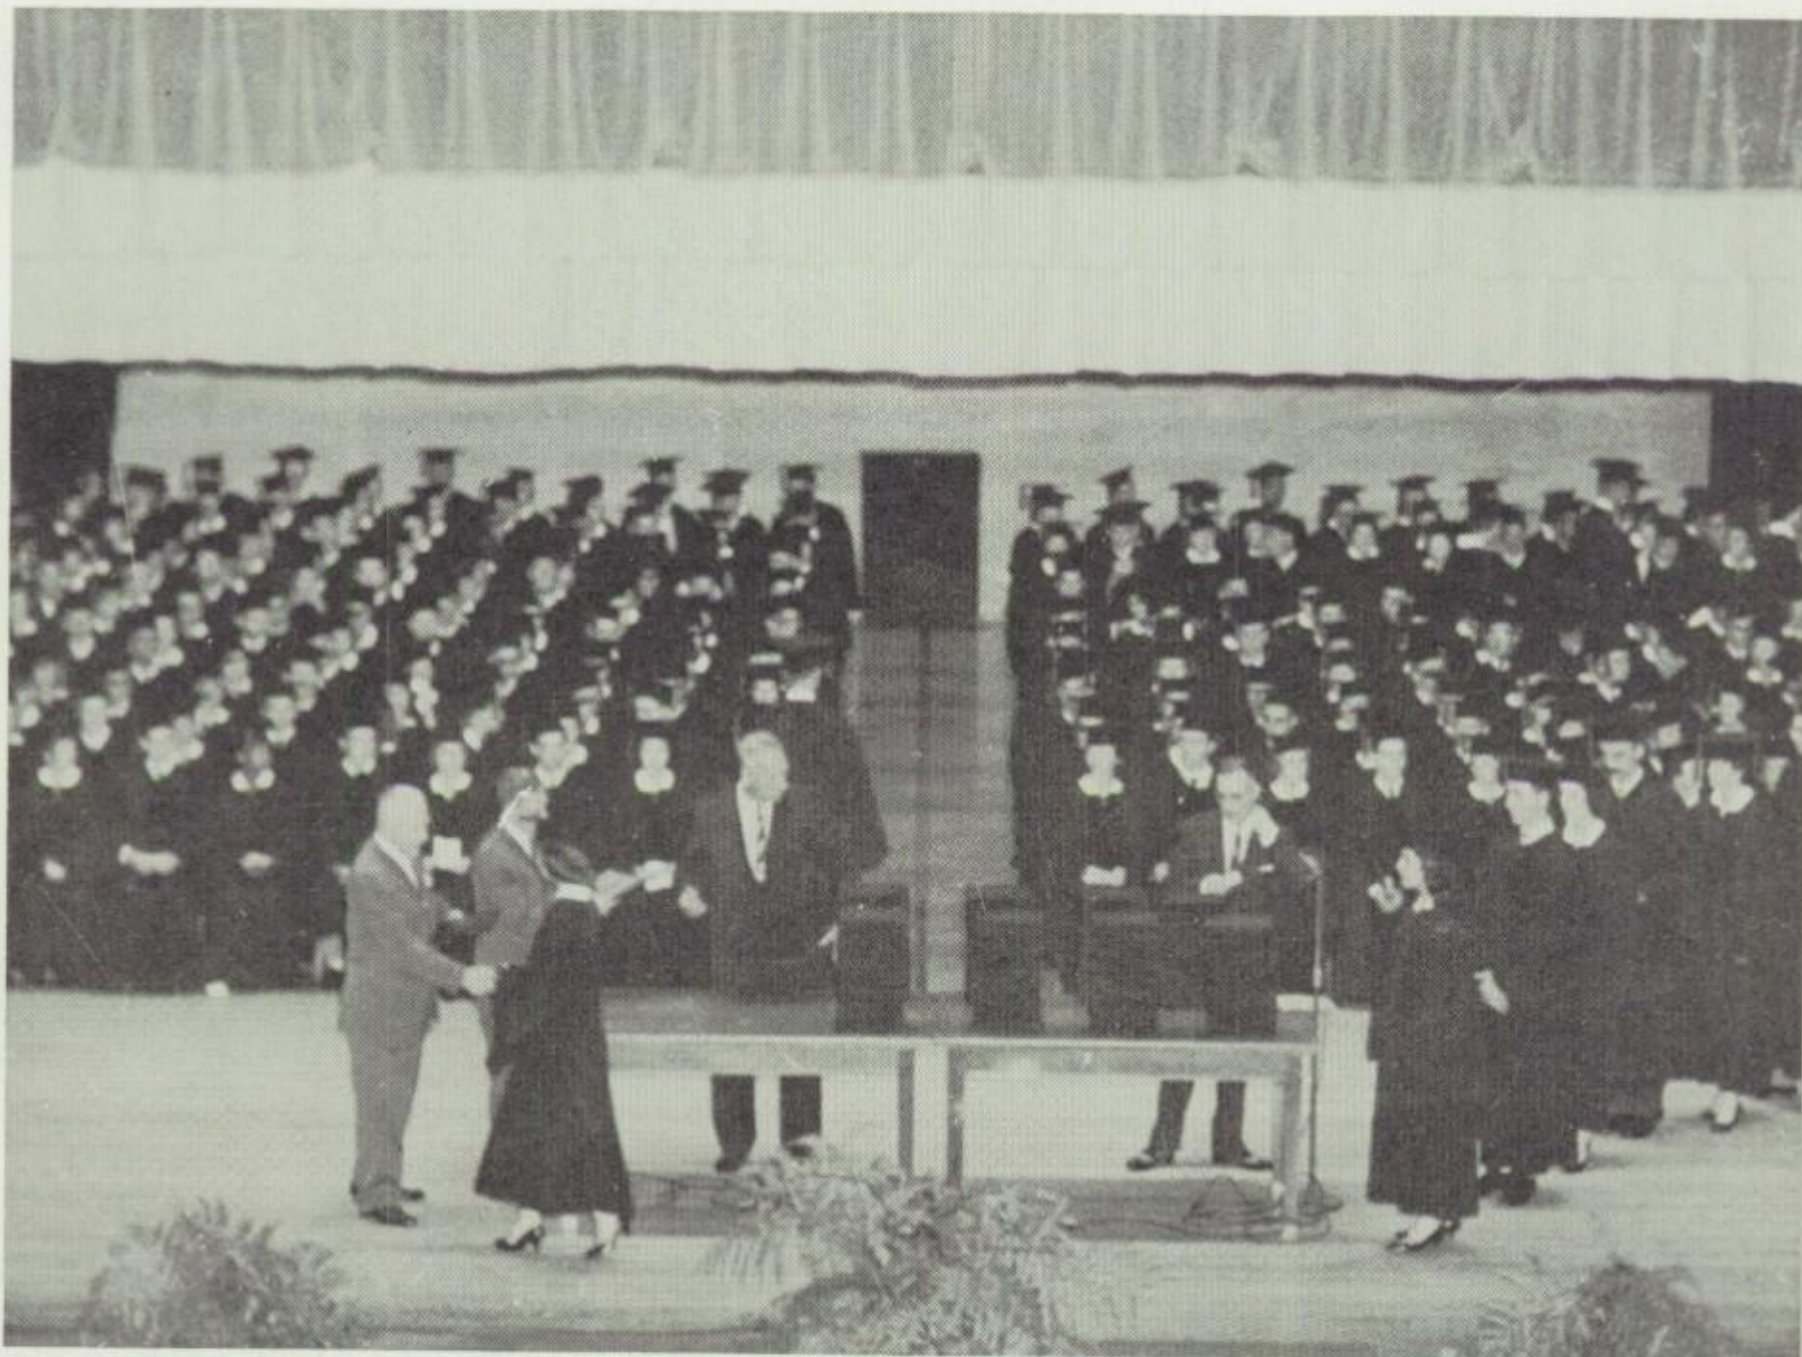

Miss Violet B. Weber, yearbook adviser, and the photographer line up sophomore members of homeroom 203 for their group picture. ECHO staffers, John Slaugh, Sandra Frey, Karol Hurst, and Sarah Winter, assist in the "assembly line" arrangement for prompt arrival and dismissal of homerooms.

What is so rare as a day in June?

—James Russell Lowell

Happy June day! Rows and rows of seniors on stage wait patiently to receive their diplomas. Raymond H. Aierstock, a member of the Lancaster City School Board, assisted by John H. Rodman, Edward C. Kraft, and S. Ernest Kilgore, members of the administration, awards long-awaited sheepskins to the graduating class.

In Memoriam

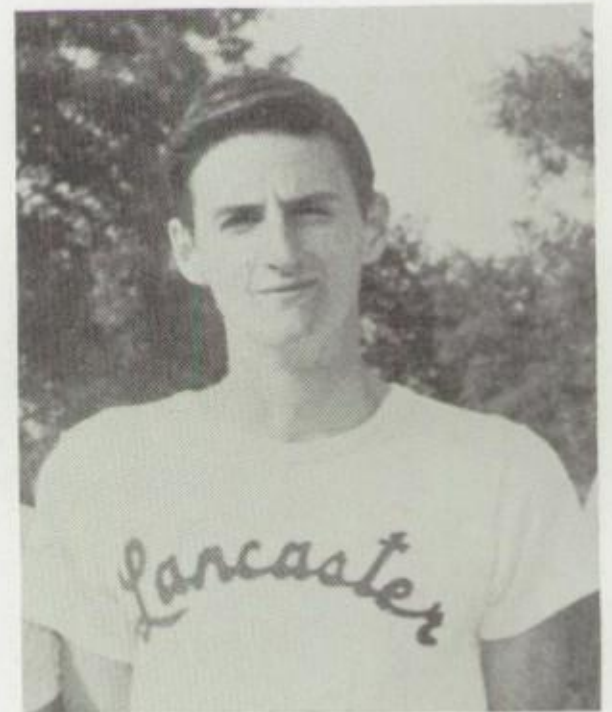

On July 5, 1960, Bruce L. Burkhart died following a ten weeks' illness. While attending McCaskey, Bruce, a hard worker, was a member of the diving and the intramural clubs.

But brighter suns and bluer skies Shall smile on them for evermore.

—Tennyson-Turner

James R. Lawrence died on April 29, 1960, after being injured in an automobile accident the previous day. During the school year, Jim, a good-natured lad, was a member of the cross-country team and student manager of the track team.

*Unfathomed mystery is death,
Yet beautiful.
Behold! A comrade, lost from sight,
Retains his youth within our hearts eternally.*

—Unknown

At an informal meeting of senior class officers John Plakans, who might be called a "minority president," is surrounded by his cabinet: Kate Donnelly, historian; Jean Gilbo, treasurer; Peggy Foote, vice-president; and Barbara Brubaker, secretary.

Each Senior Officer Assumes Duties As Leader Of Leaders

CLASS COLORS: Navy blue and white

CLASS FLOWER: Red rose

MOTTO: Friendship, the older it grows, the stronger it is.

Kate Donnelly, historian of the class of 1961, receives the class history from Pamela Fitzkee, 1960 historian. Joseph Friend, 1960 president, presents the lighted torch to John Plakans, president of the class of 1961. These presentations are traditional at McCaskey on Class Day.

Tearing themselves away from their homework during a study period, Robert Bleacher, Richard Parker, and John Moyer tune in the World Series on a radio smuggled into a convenient classroom.

Robin Goldsmith, Kate Donnelly, Bruce Brinser, and Kenneth Shank, National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists, compare notes with John Slaugh, Sandra Frey, and Julia

Theobald who, along with Kenneth, stand at the top of the class by maintaining straight A averages throughout the sophomore and junior years.

Honor Is Earned By Those Who Seek With Painful Toil

Upper Right: Kenneth Stoudt, leading scorer of the Central Penn Conference with 15 touchdowns and 90 points, takes "the pause that refreshes" as Barry Reinhart, David Morrison, and Kenneth Smith observe the action at the York football game. Lower Right: David Foster, James Sharf, and Joel Lantz, three of McCaskey's representatives to the annual science fair, experiment with the Van de Graaff machine, a device that generates high voltage static electricity. In addition to his work at the science fair, David ranked eleventh in a field of 160 in a competitive physics test at Franklin and Marshall College. Below: Bonnie Kline, McCaskey's head majorette and Halloween Queen, poses in costume.

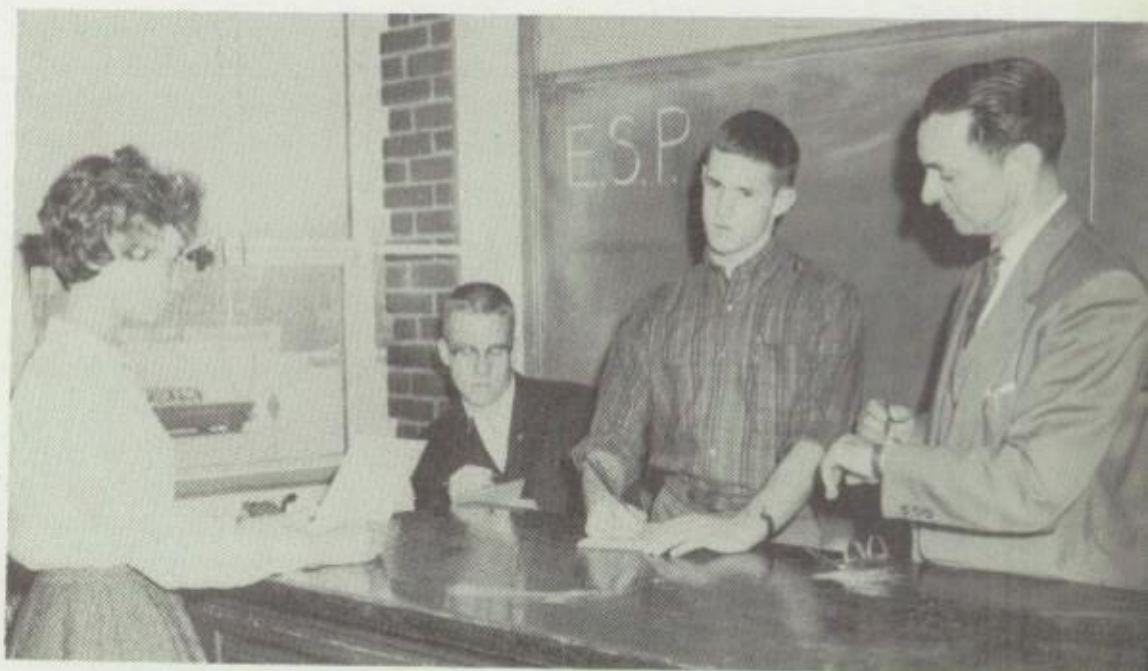

Left: Mr. Charles R. Miller, varsity basketball coach, gives the team some last-minute instructions before sending them in to defeat Lebanon. Right: Perhaps Anthony Mann and Judith Ehemann should have returned their library books on time? Destiny caught up with the two, chosen as Youth Day in Government officials, when they toured the Public Safety Building.

Students Have Occasion To Use The Winner's Shout

Right: Mr. John B. Shenk assists Margaret Skojec, David Alspach, and Richard Wolf, members of the psychology club, as they attempt success with an extrasensory-perception experiment.

McCaskey's Good Citizen, Sarah Winter, a winter weather wooer, wins a frosty friend on a snowy structure. Sarah, nominated by members of the senior class, was chosen by the faculty.

The enormous snowplow, a much-too-frequent visitor to McCaskey this year, and its driver wait patiently as Laszlo Birinyi removes from its path a bootless and almost shoeless Jean Smolko.

Muscles And Motors Equal Movement

Left: During a safety-driving class, Mr. Samuel F. Brown, driver-education instructor, "keeps an eye" on Dorothea Loeffler and Peggy Lewis as they fill a gas tank for the first time.

Below-Left: Lao-tsze said, "The journey of a thousand miles begins with one step." Finding their homeward rush temporarily interrupted by lack of gas, William Despard, Michael Ranck, and Arthur Hedge (in car) do not relish making that one step a footstep. Right: the l-o-n-g and the short of the senior class, Kenneth Shank and Donna Banzhof, pose beside Nancy Enck's Morris Minor in order to emphasize the difference in their height.

Janet Long, Irving Sandomer, Edward Hess, and Elsie Hartman meet after school to take advantage of the spring beauty of the pink and white dogwood trees in full bloom on the McCaskey campus.

So Rolls The Changing Year—Craik

Top: Winners of the girls' competitive assembly, the Black Team members represent the cheerleaders, the majorettes, Dolphin Club, Leaders Club, and the All-Star Basketball Team. Members of Student Council, John Slaugh, Eleanor Sampson, and Kate Donnelly, discuss the program while team members, Frances Keller, Bonnie Kline, Barbara Brubaker, and Germaine Lawrence, turn their attention to Linda Rostolsky, who took the foul shots. Bottom: Brains versus Brawn was the theme of an assembly program that proved McCaskey athletes can sometimes out-think McCaskey brains. Mr. H. Grant Hurst, quizmaster; Eric Lane, member of the basketball team; Kenneth Shank, basketball co-captain; Stanley Watt, swimming captain; and Paul Martin, wrestling co-captain; watch as Frederick Blaebaum, basketball co-captain, aims for another basket.

Popular Assembly Features Brains And Brawn

The Brains, Robin Goldsmith, vice-president of the National Thespian Society; David Alspach, president of the National Honor Society; John Plakans, president of the senior class; and James Sharf, president of the band; wait tensely for Alvin LeCount to make that shot.

The Red Team, composed of girls representing the ECHO, Quill and Scroll, All-School Social Committee, National Honor Society, orchestra, and band, gives its attention to Patricia Shertzer as she tries for one more point. Seated: Linda Black, Sandra Frey, Jean Gilbo, Sarah Winter.

On the night of Commencement, the graduates and several of their friends gather at the main entrance of McCaskey.

Looking Forward, Backward, And Just Looking

Above: Last minute butterflies plague McCaskey seniors as they chatter nervously on the night of their graduation.

Below: Linda Roschel and Kenneth Smith find all kinds of interesting "stuff" in the lost-and-found department in the main office.

Who's this? After close examination one can recognize Judith Rainey as she looked two long years ago when as a sophomore she reported for her X-ray.

"How about these?" John Campbell and Michael Gockley ask Virginia Brown, who has somehow lost her books in the cafeteria rush.

Advertisements

Great is advertisement! 'tis almost fate;

—Richard LeGallienne

Suzanne Dachs and Lynn Trainor, advertising managers of the ECHO and the VIDETTE respectively, find their fates lie in seemingly endless hours of planning advertisements for the school publications.

PLANS FOR TOMORROW

You have them . . .

NEW HOLLAND has them, too .

As a member of the class of 1961, you are planning a career in science, business, farming, industry or some other worthwhile profession or occupation. You have set your sights high and are looking forward to a future of success and accomplishment.

New Holland, too, has a bright future in mind. It is planning and building new machines for modern scientific farming. It is designing tomorrow's machines to make the farmer's job easier and increase his crop yield.

These plans and ambitions—yours and New Holland's—are part of the renewal of the pioneering spirit in America. They demonstrate a willingness to accept the responsibilities of today and the challenge of tomorrow.

Jubilant fans celebrate the Red Tornado's decisive victory over York by giving Wayne Kramer, Howard Means, Eugene Homan, and Martin Sponaugle the red carpet treatment as the victory parade proceeds down Reservoir Street on its way back to McCaskey.

The McCaskey Marching Band not only turned in outstanding performances on the field at half-time but also contributed snappy music for fight songs along the route of the victory parade.
